HOCKEY STINGERS ELIMINATED

The Concordia Stingers put up a good fight but just were not quite good enough to beat the first place U.Q.T.R. Patriotes in the Quebec University Hockey League semi-final. The Stingers forced the Pats to a third and deciding game in the best of three affair, but were no match for the regular season champions in the third game. In fact U.Q.T.R. jumped into a 3-0 lead before the game was ten minutes old and although the Stingers rallied briefly in the middle frame the outcome was never in doubt.

Jeff Carter and Neil Trineer scored in a losing cause for Concordia who lost a playoff series in Quebec for the first time in eleven years.
